

Habits for Successful Students!

Sponsored by District 86 and The Parent Network

Tuesday, November 19

7 pm to 8 pm

Hinsdale Central High School / The Community Room
(main entrance)

Presenting:

Matthew Wanzenberg, Ph.D.,
and Kent Yamane

What is all the "hubub" about executive skills and why are these skills important to your child's academic performance? Learn firsthand from the executive skills coaches at Wanzenberg & Associates the meaning and importance of executive functioning, how to identify strengths and weaknesses that may impact your child's performance, and how meaningful intervention plans can be developed to foster independence and success. Dr. Matthew Wanzenberg and Kent Yamane will facilitate a casual and informative evening roundtable where participants can field their questions for the panel's feedback. Sample case studies, typical outcomes, and example goals will be discussed.

Parents and students are encouraged to attend.
